

NEEDED

IMPERFECT PARENTS

for youth in foster care

We are looking for imperfect parents.

Because being a foster parent isn't about having a perfect home. It's about having a welcoming home. Being a foster parent isn't about having a perfect heart either. It's about having a willing-to-learn heart.

The need is great for parents who believe in imperfect progress and have empathy for brokenness. Especially for teens, sibling groups and children with medical needs.
